The Kennedy Krieger Institute is looking for a May graduate to work as a research assistant on a project concerned with perceptual-motor performance in autism. The position involves working directly with children (behavioral testing) as well as the opportunity to learn about neuroimaging (EEG). This would be an excellent position for a student putting off graduate or professional school for a year or two. If interested, apply here and contact Howard Egeth at egeth@jhu.edu.