

Hello Students –

I know this is a busy week with the next round of exams. Only one more week to go and then SPRING BREAK – you can do it!!! Hopefully all of you remembered to “Spring Forward” for daylight savings time.

We have submitted our list of Neuroscience and Behavioral Biology Honors for students graduating in May. You should have received an email from Linda on Friday if your name was on the list. If you did not receive an email but you qualify for Honors, then contact Linda at linda.m.white@jhu.edu ASAP. The final list needs to be submitted by March 21st in order for your name to be listed in the graduation program as receiving honors.

Recently we have been trying different snacks in the Conference Room and we would like to know what you think about them. Either pop into the office to let Ami know or let us know via the comment/suggestion box link (see below).

Have a GREAT week and a GREAT Spring Break!!!
