

Application for Senior Honors in Africana Studies

2021-2022 Academic Year Application

Submit this application and a 10-page sample of your academic writing to Prof. Nadia Nurhussein, Director of Undergraduate Studies (nnurhus1@jhu.edu). A letter of recommendation from any faculty member familiar with your work should be emailed to Prof. Nurhussein separately. The deadline for application is Friday, May 21, 2021.

Name:

Email:

Cumulative GPA:

GPA in Africana Studies:

Please list all courses offered by or cross listed in Africana Studies that you have taken at JHU, including those that are in-progress, as well as any relevant courses transferred from other institutions:

Course	Course Grade	Instructor

If there is a faculty member whom you would like to ask to be your adviser for Spring 2021, please list his/her name below:

If you are also planning to submit a thesis application for another department, please list the department here:

In the space below, write a brief proposal for your thesis, describing in one paragraph the project you plan to embark upon in the coming year. Specify the disciplinary leaning(s) of your project and describe in general terms some of the concerns, questions, or ideas driving the project. Note: Although this proposal should indicate the direction in which you are headed and should provide guidance to you as you work on your project, it is in no way binding; it is expected that your thesis will develop in unexpected ways over the course of the coming year.