

THE EAST ASIAN STUDIES PROGRAM
AT JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY

FALL 2015 SPEAKERS SERIES

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8

JA IAN CHONG

Oh, the Things We Say about
East Asia, Or Uses and Misuses of History in International Relations

12:00-1:30pm
Mergenthaler 266

National University of Singapore
Co-sponsored by the Department of Sociology

Sherwood Room

OCTOBER 15-16

WORKSHOP ON EARLY MODERN CHINA IN THE LATE IMPERIAL WORLD

Co-sponsored by the History Department and the CCK Foundation

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15

LEVI MCLAUGHLIN

Religion and Politics in Japan
Today: A Look at Komeito's
Sōka Gakkai Supporters and Protestors

12:00-1:30pm
Mergenthaler 266

North Carolina State University

5:30-7PM
Great Hall

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 27 WORKSHOP ON CAREERS IN FOREIGN POLICY

Led by Marvin Ott

EAS Adjunct Lecturer, previously US State
Department's Foreign Service Institute

Co-sponsored by
International Studies Program

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17

HE BIAN

Pharmaceutical Expertise in Early Modern China

3:00-5:00pm
Welch Library
JHU School of Medicine

Princeton University

Co-sponsored by the History of Medicine Department

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 4

XIAOFEI KANG

Religion and the Chinese Revolution

George Washington University

Co-sponsored by
The Department of History

12:00-1:30pm
Mergenthaler 266

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2

JOHN LIE

The Globalization of K-Pop

12:00-1:30pm
Mergenthaler 266

University of California, Berkeley

Co-sponsored by the Department of Sociology and SAIS
Reischauer Center

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 11

MORGAN PITELKA

Culture and War: On the Violence of Collecting and Display in 16th-Century Japan

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Co-sponsored by
The Department of History

12:00-1:30pm
Mergenthaler 266

YVES TIBERGHEIN

China and Global Governance

University of British Columbia

Co-sponsored by the Political Science Department