Hello Students –

CYBER-JHU keeps on rolling! Keep up the good work and remember that if you are having trouble resolving any issues please reach out to your instructors, advisors and of course me. We are here to help! Please check out all the important info below.

- Registration begins today!

- Scientific Communications next week: Sci. Comm. will take place via Zoom at the regularly scheduled time and day. Check the Special Note for your section on SIS. Your instructor will reach out to you with a Zoom link as we get closer.

- Research Papers: If you are conducting research for credit your paper is due on Friday May 1st. A separate email will go out soon to explain the submission process.

- Speak with the DUS: Cooped up and looking for something to do? Chat with me! We can discuss any concerns you are having or just talk about Neuroscience and Philosophy or something. It may help relieve some stress! I have meeting slots available from 2-4 this Tuesday-Friday. The Zoom link is in the link, just cut and paste the link in your browser at the time of the meeting. Below is the link to the meeting signup:

Please continue to check and read your email regularly. Please email me or your advisor if you are experiencing any hardship related to the remote experience. Remember, you can email me any time, I’d be happy to talk.

Please, practice social distancing and stay healthy!

Have a GREAT week!!!
COVID-19

Even though we are doing classes remotely, please remember the things you can do to maximize personal preparedness and prevention of the spread of COVID-19:

- Wash your hands frequently
- Cough/sneeze into your elbow
- Stay home if you are sick and don’t return until you are fever-free for 24 hours without medication
- Get your flu shot

If you are sick and are concerned that any of your symptoms may be related to COVID-19 due to recent travel history or other risk factors, please refer to our guidance online.

Registrar’s Office

The last date for KSAS undergraduates to withdraw from classes is Monday, May 4th. A “W” will appear on the transcript.

Fall 2020 Registration Starts Today

Today is the first day of class registration for the Fall 2020 semester.

Monday, 4/20 – Rising Seniors
Wednesday, 4/22 – Rising Juniors
Friday, 4/24 – Rising Sophomores

Courses are now listed on SIS and the COMPLETE list of upper levels will be on our website soon. You should be scheduling a time to meet with your faculty advisor online or through phone calls.

Also, the Registrar’s website has changed. The Teacher Course Evaluations (TCEs) can now be found under “Faculty and Staff” instead of “Students”.

DREAMS Using Panopto

Students who will be presenting their research through Blackboard should click here for instructions explaining how to present your poster. It primarily involves converting your poster into PowerPoint presentation and creating a narrated presentation using Panopto. This will be done through Blackboard. Using Panopto is good because you can edit your presentation to make sure it is just right.
All of the information you need to get started is in the instructions and can also be found by clicking the Information tab on the Blackboard site. Please read it carefully! We extended the deadlines (see below) to allow you time to convert your posters to PowerPoint and experiment with Panopto. I suggest reading the instructions as soon as possible and experimenting with each step to make sure you can convert the poster and work in Panopto. If you have issues contact Dr. Trageser and we will work through it.

If you are trying to earn Neuroscience or Behavioral Biology Honors, this event will count for your presentation requirement.

IMPORTANT DATES – NEW DEADLINES

- Deadline for students to submit their presentations through Blackboard: April 29, 2020
- Deadline for students to reply to faculty questions: May 8, 2020
