CLINICAL CAREER & PROJECTS

- 2007-2017 Assistant Team Therapist, Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust Complex Needs Service
I worked part-time in an NHS out-patient Therapeutic Community for patients with personality and related disorders for a decade. I have experience facilitating: pre-therapy groups; small analytic groups; large integrative groups; medication groups; SCID-II diagnostic groups; creative groups; emotional intelligence and skills-based groups; CBT groups; psychodrama and action methods groups; psycho-educational groups; and in working with risk.
- Launched 2018 Responsibility without Blame e-learning (funded by The Wellcome Trust)
This is an interactive open access e-learning based on an in-person training I developed and delivered initially in prisons and mental health services. It offers a philosophical toolkit distinguishing the concept of responsibility from the concept of blame for use in reflection and development of effective clinical practice and engagement with people with personality and related disorders: www.responsibilitywithoutblame.org
