The Humanities Collaboratory

Graduate Fellowship

Apply now
Review begins immediately

Program Dates
May 30 - August 5th

---

Highlights

- 10 weeks teaching and mentoring in an innovative humanities undergraduate program
- Professional development in Culturally Responsible Teaching
- Experience working with Community College, HBCU, and MSI students
- $10,000 stipend (taxable)

---

About the Program

The Mellon Foundation Humanities Collaboratory Graduate Fellowship provides $10,000 to doctoral graduate students at JHU for the opportunity to join in a teaching and research collaboration with historically excluded students Community Colleges and Minority Serving Institutions that initiates students into undergraduate humanities research while providing them the advanced skills necessary to transition to a four-year university or graduate school.

Three fellows will be selected to be faculty in our summer Humanities Collaboratory where they will lead instruction on humanities research methods and co-mentor students. These same fellows will then work closely with a group of approximately 35 students to develop individualized research projects that will be presented both locally and at the annual Leadership Alliance National Symposium.

Summer 2022 program will be hosted in-person pending COVID-19 guidance.

Applicant Eligibility

Applicants must:

- Be doctoral students in the Krieger School of Arts and Sciences
- Be in residence for summer 2022
- Be willing to model their research practices in front of the undergraduate scholars
- Complete Culturally Responsible Teaching (CRT) training in May 2022

Fellowships may not be deferred.

Application Information

- Letter of application (500 words)
- Curriculum vitae
- Transcript (unofficial is accepted)
- Contact info for a faculty mentor who can provide a reference
- Contact info for your department or program chair who can confirm your eligibility

---

Apply via email to:
Dr. Natalie Strobach at strobach@jhu.edu

Learn More:
https://krieger.jhu.edu/ursca/summer-programs/mellon-foundation-humanities-collaboratory-fellowship/